A Journey to the Heart of Trinidad

In the sun-kissed shores of Trinidad, where verdant sugarcane fields meet the azure waters of the Caribbean Sea, lies the birthplace of Lunchtime Chronicles Dirty Mojito Amaya Black. This exceptional rum embodies the rich heritage and vibrant spirit of the island, capturing the essence of paradise in every sip.

A Legacy of Rum Excellence

The Lunchtime Chronicles brand traces its roots back to the colonial era of Trinidad, when sugar plantations dotted the landscape. It was during this time that skilled artisans perfected the art of rum distillation, creating a spirit that quickly gained renown for its exceptional quality.

The name "Lunchtime Chronicles" pays homage to the tradition of sharing stories and savoring a glass of rum during the midday break in the sugarcane fields. These gatherings fostered a sense of community and camaraderie, and the rum itself became a symbol of unity and celebration.

The Dirty Mojito: A Caribbean Delight

The Lunchtime Chronicles Dirty Mojito Amaya Black is a testament to the enduring legacy of Trinidadian rum. It is crafted using a unique blend of pot and column stills, resulting in a rum that is both complex and aromatic.

The heart of this rum lies in its molasses-based spirit, distilled in traditional copper pot stills. This process imparts a rich, full-bodied character, with hints of caramel, toffee, and spice. The spirit then undergoes further distillation in continuous column stills, which refine and enhance its flavor profile.
