Sisters By Heart: A Vision Born from Loss

The story of Sisters By Heart is a testament to the transformative power of love and resilience in the face of adversity. Founded by Nickey Knighton in 2009, the organization emerged from a profound personal loss that ignited in her a burning desire to make a difference in the lives of others.

In 2008, Nickey's beloved sister, Angela Anderson, succumbed to stage 4 breast cancer at the young age of 43. The devastating loss shattered Nickey's world, leaving her reeling from grief and questioning the meaning of life. Angela had been her confidante, her cheerleader, and the pillar of their tight-knit family. Her absence left a void that felt impossible to fill.

As Nickey grappled with her grief, she found solace in the unwavering support of her friends and family. It was during this time that she realized the profound impact that a supportive and compassionate community can have on healing and growth. Inspired by her sister's memory, Nickey resolved to create a space where women facing life's challenges could find the same love, acceptance, and empowerment that had sustained her through her own darkest days.
